Summer Camp Safety Policies

Updated May 25, 2022

Thank you for engineering with us! The Works Museum is committed to providing a safe and healthy environment for our workers and customers. This summer, we are taking the following health and safety precautions for our camps.

Symptom Screening and Exposure

- The Works Museum staff are self-screening for symptoms of COVID-19 and staying home when sick.
- At camp check-in, we will ask COVID-19 symptom screening questions. Campers will not be permitted to attend camp if they are experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 or have a confirmed case.
- If a child begins to experience symptoms during the camp day, they will be separated from the other campers and sent home.
- Staff and campers are asked to follow The Minnesota Department of Health's quarantine guidance if they have been exposed to a confirmed case:

- If your child must miss camp due to illness or exposure, we will work with you to switch your registration to another week.

Capacity

- Each four-day camp will include no more than 16 campers and 2 staff in a classroom, and each one-day camp will include no more than 30 campers and 3 staff in a classroom.

Masking

- Well-fitting face masks are strongly encouraged for campers and staff but are not required.

Cleaning

- The Works Museum will be cleaned regularly by a professional cleaning crew

Campers who do not follow our policies or engage in behavior that jeopardizes the safety of other campers or staff will be sent home.

The Works Museum will continue to monitor the situation and may update our safety procedures as needed. Please contact us if you have further questions about the details of our safety policies.
